

Attached for your study is a proposed complete revision of the International Constitution and By-Laws, as approved by the International Board of Directors for submission to the delegates at the 2001 International Convention.

In preparing this document, the board adopted the following methodology. First, the new document is to be "member friendly." By that we mean a document written in a format that will be easily understood by the members. Second, any proposed document will continue to embrace the concepts that have successfully guided the association. Therefore, you will find no significant concept changes from the current International Constitution and By-Laws.

I know that each of you, and particularly your convention delegates will review this proposed revision carefully.

Very cordially yours,

Dr. Jean Behar
